

Academic Qualifications

- PhD. COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, New York, 2001.
- Master's Degree, COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, New York, 1989.
- B.A. (Licenciatura), Universidad de Barcelona, Spain, 1987

Other certifications

- Media Plus Programme of the European Community (TELEVISION)
- Member of the official Media Programme of the European Union (Television Studies)

Professional Activity

My main professional career in Television and my Academic career run parallel. My academic background (with a PhD in Literature/History) relates to my career as a TV scriptwriter only occasionally, in some of the television documentaries I make, or in certain pieces of fiction.

- TELEVISION:

Starting 1992: (press correspondent of LA Vanguardia in New York, plus:)

NBC Television, New York

CEM Productions, New York

ALEA TV , Barcelona / Madrid (currently), writing and producing television programs, including TV movies, for several European channels : TVE; Canal +; ARTE; TV3, etc.).

- UNIVERSITY TEACHING (Communication and/or Television Studies):

Universidad de Barcelona, professor at a Master's Program on Media and Communication (since 2000)

IES Barcelona, since 2003

Before this, as a graduate student:

Columbia University, New York: Spanish courses and Literature courses.

Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, New York.

Publications: (not including press features and or TV scripts):

Public Television and Audience (in Spanish). La Vanguardia, 2004

An Introduction to European Television. (in English) Ed. Media Program of the European Union, 2005

Reality TV as a Form of Fiction. (in English) Ed. Media Program of the European Union, 2005

Languages:

Spanish, English, French, Catalan.

Italian and Portuguese (understanding and reading abilities)